

QADIAN — DETAILED FIELD OPERATIONS & PUBLIC-ISSUE PLAN FOR 223 BOOTHS

Based on booth-level data comparing the 2022 Punjab Assembly Election and the 2024 Lok Sabha Election

Important: The 2022 Assembly and 2024 Lok Sabha were different elections. The 2024 booth result is therefore historical context, not a direct forecast of a future Assembly election.

1. Overall Campaign Operating Plan

Based on booth-level data comparing the 2022 Punjab Assembly Election and the 2024 Lok Sabha Election

Important Note

This document uses election results as historical evidence for field organisation, public-issue listening, follow-up, route planning, data verification and reporting. The 2022 Assembly and 2024 Lok Sabha were different elections; therefore, the 2024 booth result is not a direct forecast of a future Assembly election. Use this data for campaign planning, field visits, speeches, publicity and public-issue priorities.

Start here: what needs to be done to build a strong and winning campaign?

1. First 30 Days — Ground Intelligence

During the first 30 days, run ground work alongside speeches, publicity and public presence. At the same time, understand the constituency's ground reality and use it to plan the next steps.

2. One responsible system for every booth

Give every booth a coordinator + backup + reporting responsibility. Do not run the campaign on one person's memory. Every important point should come into the written log.

3. First Visit = Listen and Verify

During the first visit, speak directly with people. Record which issue is in which street/locality/village, which department is responsible, and whether a complaint/reference is available.

4. Make Follow-up the Centre of the Campaign

Where the candidate/team does not have direct authority, create a follow-up route to the relevant department/official, take a status update and communicate the progress to people.

5. Second Visit is Essential

Return after 30–45 days. Check the status of the main issues recorded during the first visit. This shows whether the team is only meeting people or also doing the required follow-up.

6. Use the 2022–2024 Data as a Strong Foundation for Future Planning

Where AAP share increased or decreased, keep that information in mind for future planning. The report shows where movement happened and where more field work is needed.

7. Keep Turnout Changes in Mind

In several booths, total polled votes decreased. Turnout means the number of votes actually cast at a booth. Therefore, a turnout decrease does not always mean support decreased; keep this in mind while planning.

8. Social Media = Proof of Field Work

Publish only what actually happened in the field, supported by verified evidence. Continue speeches, publicity and social media alongside ground work. Communicate the work and activities clearly and simply.

9. Daily Campaign Reporting

Every day, take one simple report: which booths/areas the team visited, what main feedback was received, what follow-up is needed and when the next visit is. Mark covered booths and put remaining booths on the next day's list.

10. Weekly Campaign Review

Every week, check which booths were covered, where visits remain, which issues are under follow-up and where the team needs to go next week.

11. Poll-Day Preparation

Before the election, verify official rules, polling-agent arrangements, booth mapping, documentation and lawful logistics. Every activity should follow Election Commission rules.

12. Simple Working Formula

DATA → TEAM → VISIT → PUBLICITY → FOLLOW-UP → RETURN → REPORT → REVIEW.
Run this cycle simply and consistently across all 223 booths.

Detailed Situation

In 2022, INC was the winner and AAP's share was 35.01%; in 2024, AAP was the winner and AAP's share became 53.86%. AAP share changed by +18.85 percentage points and total polled votes changed by -5.96%. Booth status: 2022 INC → 2024 AAP. Main reading: Very large historical swing toward AAP. There is a moderate change in turnout; use the 2024 figures as context and carry out current ground verification.

Detailed Action

- 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
- 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
- 3) This booth moved toward AAP in 2024. Use this 2022–2024 movement as an important signal for future planning and understand its reasons in the field.
- 4) This booth moved toward AAP in 2024, so use this momentum in future planning. Meet people, understand the main issues and strengthen campaign presence.
- 5) campaign team authority , / follow-up channel ; I
- 6) Return for a second-round visit within 30–45 days and check whether there has been progress on the issues from the first visit; if not, record the reason and next step.
- 7) Special swing action: the swing is very large. Make this booth a case study, independently verify the possible reasons through ground interviews and include the learning in constituency-level planning.
- 8) Final reporting: visit date, team members, areas covered, public issues, evidence collected, follow-up owner, next date and unresolved items—these 7 things must be included in the report.

2022 AAP %	44.85%
2024 Winner	AAP — Amansher Singh Shery Kalsi (AAP)
2024 AAP %	32.45%
AAP Swing	-12.40 percentage points
Turnout Change	-27 votes (-4.28%)
Status	AAP won the booth in both 2022 and 2024

Detailed Situation

In 2022, AAP was the winner and AAP's share was 44.85%; in 2024, AAP was the winner and AAP's share became 32.45%. AAP share changed by -12.40 percentage points and total polled votes changed by -4.28%. Booth status: AAP won the booth in both 2022 and 2024. Main reading: Clear swing away from AAP. The turnout change is limited; however, because the 2022 Assembly and 2024 Lok Sabha were different elections, do not draw a causal conclusion.

Detailed Action

93. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
94. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
95. 3) This is a continuity booth. Keep the previous two election results as historical evidence and check the current condition of the local organisation.
96. 4) During the first visit, create an issue list and service/follow-up cases; during the second visit, check the status of each case.
97. 5) Fill gaps in team coverage; do not create individual political-preference profiles.
98. 6) Monthly maintenance review: check whether the coordinator is active, whether the issue tracker is updated and whether follow-up is happening on time.
99. Special swing action: the swing is clear. Verify the possible reasons with at least two separate field sources.
100. Final reporting: visit date, team members, areas covered, public issues, evidence collected, follow-up owner, next date and unresolved items—these 7 things must be included in the report.

Booth #26 — Sohal

Booth / Village	#26 — Sohal
2022 Winner	AAP — Gurqbal Singh Mahal (AAP)
2022 AAP %	35.60%
2024 Winner	INC — Sukhjinder Singh Randhawa (INC)
2024 AAP %	22.30%
AAP Swing	-13.30 percentage points
Turnout Change	-112 votes (-16.54%)
Status	2022 AAP → 2024 INC

Detailed Situation

In 2022, AAP was the winner and AAP's share was 35.60%; in 2024, INC was the winner and AAP's share became 22.30%. AAP share changed by -13.30 percentage points and total polled votes changed by -16.54%. Booth status: 2022 AAP → 2024 INC. Main reading: Clear swing away from AAP. There is a large change in turnout; therefore, do not treat the old vote share as a direct reflection of the current ground situation. First review the polling pattern, roll/mapping and local factors.

Detailed Action

203. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
204. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.

205. 3) priority review booth | 2022 2024 field presence, public meetings, speeches local publicity ground feedback |
206. 4) Make three separate checks: (a) polling/turnout and mapping, (b) local developments between 2022–24, and (c) the actual field presence and follow-up of the organisation.
207. 5) During the first visit, speak openly with people. Note the main feedback and set follow-up wherever needed.
208. 6) During the second visit, review unresolved issues, organisation gaps and route/coverage gaps. If any data assumption does not match the ground reality, update the master sheet.
209. 7) The swing is very large, so treat this as a priority diagnostic booth: conduct a special review with a senior field lead and do not base the conclusion on a single reason.
210. Special turnout action: there is a decrease of more than 10% in turnout. Do not treat this as a direct election-to-election behavioural conclusion; review polling arrangements, voter-roll changes, election type and local circumstances.
211. Special swing action: the swing is clear. Verify the possible reasons with at least two separate field sources.

Status	AAP won the booth in both 2022 and 2024

Detailed Situation

In 2022, AAP was the winner and AAP's share was 39.67%; in 2024, AAP was the winner and AAP's share became 36.42%. AAP share changed by -3.25 percentage points and total polled votes changed by -8.97%. Booth status: AAP won the booth in both 2022 and 2024. Main reading: Moderate swing away from AAP. There is a moderate change in turnout; use the 2024 figures as context and carry out current ground verification.

Detailed Action

213. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
214. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
215. 3) This is a continuity booth. Keep the previous two election results as historical evidence and check the current condition of the local organisation.
216. 4) During the first visit, create an issue list and service/follow-up cases; during the second visit, check the status of each case.
217. 5) Fill gaps in team coverage; do not create individual political-preference profiles.

218. 6) Monthly maintenance review: check whether the coordinator is active, whether the issue tracker is updated and whether follow-up is happening on time.

AAP Swing	-17.38 percentage points
Turnout Change	+2 votes (+0.99%)
Status	2022 AAP → 2024 INC

Detailed Situation

In 2022, AAP was the winner and AAP's share was 31.53%; in 2024, INC was the winner and AAP's share became 14.15%. AAP share changed by -17.38 percentage points and total polled votes changed by +0.99%. Booth status: 2022 AAP → 2024 INC. Main reading: Very large swing away from AAP. The turnout change is limited; however, because the 2022 Assembly and 2024 Lok Sabha were different elections, do not draw a causal conclusion.

Detailed Action

311. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
312. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
313. 3) priority review booth | 2022 2024 field presence, public meetings, speeches local publicity ground feedback |
314. 4) Make three separate checks: (a) polling/turnout and mapping, (b) local developments between 2022–24, and (c) the actual field presence and follow-up of the organisation.
315. 5) During the first visit, speak openly with people. Note the main feedback and set follow-up wherever needed.
316. 6) During the second visit, review unresolved issues, organisation gaps and route/coverage gaps. If any data assumption does not match the ground reality, update the master sheet.
317. 7) The swing is very large, so treat this as a priority diagnostic booth: conduct a special review with a senior field lead and do not base the conclusion on a single reason.
318. Special swing action: the swing is very large. Make this booth a case study, independently verify the possible reasons through ground interviews and include the learning in constituency-level planning.
319. Final reporting: visit date, team members, areas covered, public issues, evidence collected, follow-up owner, next date and unresolved items—these 7 things must be included in the report.

Detailed Action

740. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
741. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
742. 3) This is a continuity booth. Keep the previous two election results as historical evidence and check the current condition of the local organisation.
743. 4) During the first visit, create an issue list and service/follow-up cases; during the second visit, check the status of each case.
744. 5) Fill gaps in team coverage; do not create individual political-preference profiles.
745. 6) Monthly maintenance review: check whether the coordinator is active, whether the issue tracker is updated and whether follow-up is happening on time.
746. Special swing action: the swing is clear. Verify the possible reasons with at least two separate field sources.
747. Final reporting: visit date, team members, areas covered, public issues, evidence collected, follow-up owner, next date and unresolved items—these 7 things must be included in the report.

Detailed Situation

In 2022, INC was the winner and AAP's share was 27.98%; in 2024, INC was the winner and AAP's share became 23.24%. AAP share changed by -4.74 percentage points and total polled votes changed by -10.47%. Booth status: INC won the booth in both 2022 and 2024. Main reading: Moderate swing away from AAP. There is a large change in turnout; therefore, do not treat the old vote share as a direct reflection of the current ground situation. First review the polling pattern, roll/mapping and local factors.

Detailed Action

748. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
749. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
750. 3) This is a long-term organisation/public-issue listening zone for AAP. Build public presence, regular visits, speeches, publicity and a clear understanding of local issues.
751. 4) During the first visit, create a village/ward-level issue map: roads, water, sanitation, health, education, employment, government services, etc.—whatever people themselves raise.
752. 5) Where available, collect documentary evidence/complaint references for each issue and follow up with the responsible authority.

753. 6) During the repeat visit, check whether the issue is resolved, pending or blocked at the authority level. Show verified progress in public communication.
754. Special turnout action: there is a decrease of more than 10% in turnout. Do not treat this as a direct election-to-election behavioural conclusion; review polling arrangements, voter-roll changes, election type and local circumstances.

Booth / Village	#118 — Baruhia Molian, Piro Nangal, Sarwarpur, Bhulripur, Bhum
2022 Winner	INC — Partap Singh Bajwa (INC)
2022 AAP %	16.64%
2024 Winner	INC — Sukhjinder Singh Randhawa (INC)
2024 AAP %	25.31%
AAP Swing	+8.67 percentage points
Turnout Change	-86 votes (-13.37%)
Status	INC won the booth in both 2022 and 2024

Detailed Situation

In 2022, INC was the winner and AAP's share was 16.64%; in 2024, INC was the winner and AAP's share became 25.31%. AAP share changed by +8.67 percentage points and total polled votes changed by -13.37%. Booth status: INC won the booth in both 2022 and 2024. Main reading: Clear swing toward AAP. There is a large change in turnout; therefore, do not treat the old vote share as a direct reflection of the current ground situation. First review the polling pattern, roll/mapping and local factors.

Detailed Action

953. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
954. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
955. 3) This is a long-term organisation/public-issue listening zone for AAP. Build public presence, regular visits, speeches, publicity and a clear understanding of local issues.
956. 4) During the first visit, create a village/ward-level issue map: roads, water, sanitation, health, education, employment, government services, etc.—whatever people themselves raise.
957. 5) Where available, collect documentary evidence/complaint references for each issue and follow up with the responsible authority.
958. 6) During the repeat visit, check whether the issue is resolved, pending or blocked at the authority level. Show verified progress in public communication.

959. Special turnout action: there is a decrease of more than 10% in turnout. Do not treat this as a direct election-to-election behavioural conclusion; review polling arrangements, voter-roll changes, election type and local circumstances.
960. Special swing action: the swing is clear. Verify the possible reasons with at least two separate field sources.
961. Final reporting: visit date, team members, areas covered, public issues, evidence collected, follow-up owner, next date and unresolved items—these 7 things must be included in the report.

Status	2022 INC → 2024 AAP

Detailed Situation

In 2022, INC was the winner and AAP's share was 31.44%; in 2024, AAP was the winner and AAP's share became 35.29%. AAP share changed by +3.85 percentage points and total polled votes changed by -13.47%. Booth status: 2022 INC → 2024 AAP. Main reading: Moderate swing toward AAP. There is a large change in turnout; therefore, do not treat the old vote share as a direct reflection of the current ground situation. First review the polling pattern, roll/mapping and local factors.

Detailed Action

1057. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
1058. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
1059. 3) This booth moved toward AAP in 2024. Use this 2022–2024 movement as an important signal for future planning and understand its reasons in the field.
1060. 4) This booth moved toward AAP in 2024, so use this momentum in future planning. Meet people, understand the main issues and strengthen campaign presence.
1061. 5) campaign team authority , / follow-up channel ; I
1062. 6) Return for a second-round visit within 30–45 days and check whether there has been progress on the issues from the first visit; if not, record the reason and next step.
1063. Special turnout action: there is a decrease of more than 10% in turnout. Do not treat this as a direct election-to-election behavioural conclusion; review polling arrangements, voter-roll changes, election type and local circumstances.

The turnout change is limited; however, because the 2022 Assembly and 2024 Lok Sabha were different elections, do not draw a causal conclusion.

Detailed Action

1161. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
1162. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
1163. 3) This booth moved toward AAP in 2024. Use this 2022–2024 movement as an important signal for future planning and understand its reasons in the field.
1164. 4) This booth moved toward AAP in 2024, so use this momentum in future planning. Meet people, understand the main issues and strengthen campaign presence.
1165. 5) campaign team authority , / follow-up channel ; I
1166. 6) Return for a second-round visit within 30–45 days and check whether there has been progress on the issues from the first visit; if not, record the reason and next step.
1167. Special swing action: the swing is very large. Make this booth a case study, independently verify the possible reasons through ground interviews and include the learning in constituency-level planning.
1168. Final reporting: visit date, team members, areas covered, public issues, evidence collected, follow-up owner, next date and unresolved items—these 7 things must be included in the report.

Detailed Situation

In 2022, AAP was the winner and AAP's share was 53.39%; in 2024, AAP was the winner and AAP's share became 46.82%. AAP share changed by -6.57 percentage points and total polled votes changed by -16.89%. Booth status: AAP won the booth in both 2022 and 2024. Main reading: Moderate swing away from AAP. There is a large change in turnout; therefore, do not treat the old vote share as a direct reflection of the current ground situation. First review the polling pattern, roll/mapping and local factors.

Detailed Action

1169. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
1170. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
1171. 3) This is a continuity booth. Keep the previous two election results as historical evidence and check the current condition of the local organisation.
1172. 4) During the first visit, create an issue list and service/follow-up cases; during the second visit, check the status of each case.
1173. 5) Fill gaps in team coverage; do not create individual political-preference profiles.
1174. 6) Monthly maintenance review: check whether the coordinator is active, whether the issue tracker is updated and whether follow-up is happening on time.
1175. Special turnout action: there is a decrease of more than 10% in turnout. Do not treat this as a direct election-to-election behavioural conclusion; review polling arrangements, voter-roll changes, election type and local circumstances.
1176. Final reporting: visit date, team members, areas covered, public issues, evidence collected, follow-up owner, next date and unresolved items—these 7 things must be included in the report.

In 2022, AAP was the winner and AAP's share was 38.18%; in 2024, INC was the winner and AAP's share became 26.17%. AAP share changed by -12.01 percentage points and total polled votes changed by -1.27%. Booth status: 2022 AAP → 2024 INC. Main reading: Clear swing away from AAP. The turnout change is limited; however, because the 2022 Assembly and 2024 Lok Sabha were different elections, do not draw a causal conclusion.

Detailed Action

1265. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
1266. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
1267. 3) priority review booth | 2022 2024 field presence, public meetings, speeches local publicity ground feedback |
1268. 4) Make three separate checks: (a) polling/turnout and mapping, (b) local developments between 2022–24, and (c) the actual field presence and follow-up of the organisation.
1269. 5) During the first visit, speak openly with people. Note the main feedback and set follow-up wherever needed.
1270. 6) During the second visit, review unresolved issues, organisation gaps and route/coverage gaps. If any data assumption does not match the ground reality, update the master sheet.
1271. 7) The swing is very large, so treat this as a priority diagnostic booth: conduct a special review with a senior field lead and do not base the conclusion on a single reason.
1272. Special swing action: the swing is clear. Verify the possible reasons with at least two separate field sources.
1273. Final reporting: visit date, team members, areas covered, public issues, evidence collected, follow-up owner, next date and unresolved items—these 7 things must be included in the report.

Detailed Situation

In 2022, INC was the winner and AAP's share was 33.05%; in 2024, INC was the winner and AAP's share became 21.75%. AAP share changed by -11.30 percentage points and total polled votes changed by -18.16%. Booth status: INC won the booth in both 2022 and 2024. Main reading: Clear swing away from AAP. There is a large change in turnout; therefore, do not treat the old vote share as a direct reflection of the current ground situation. First review the polling pattern, roll/mapping and local factors.

Detailed Action

1371. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
1372. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
1373. 3) This is a long-term organisation/public-issue listening zone for AAP. Build public presence, regular visits, speeches, publicity and a clear understanding of local issues.
1374. 4) During the first visit, create a village/ward-level issue map: roads, water, sanitation, health, education, employment, government services, etc.—whatever people themselves raise.
1375. 5) Where available, collect documentary evidence/complaint references for each issue and follow up with the responsible authority.
1376. 6) During the repeat visit, check whether the issue is resolved, pending or blocked at the authority level. Show verified progress in public communication.

1377. Special turnout action: there is a decrease of more than 10% in turnout. Do not treat this as a direct election-to-election behavioural conclusion; review polling arrangements, voter-roll changes, election type and local circumstances.
1378. Special swing action: the swing is clear. Verify the possible reasons with at least two separate field sources.
1379. Final reporting: visit date, team members, areas covered, public issues, evidence collected, follow-up owner, next date and unresolved items—these 7 things must be included in the report.

1476. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
1477. 3) This is a long-term organisation/public-issue listening zone for AAP. Build public presence, regular visits, speeches, publicity and a clear understanding of local issues.
1478. 4) During the first visit, create a village/ward-level issue map: roads, water, sanitation, health, education, employment, government services, etc.—whatever people themselves raise.

1479. 5) Where available, collect documentary evidence/complaint references for each issue and follow up with the responsible authority.
1480. 6) During the repeat visit, check whether the issue is resolved, pending or blocked at the authority level. Show verified progress in public communication.
1481. Special swing action: the swing is clear. Verify the possible reasons with at least two separate field sources.

AAP Swing	+0.38 percentage points
Turnout Change	-82 votes (-12.17%)
Status	INC won the booth in both 2022 and 2024

Detailed Situation

In 2022, INC was the winner and AAP's share was 28.34%; in 2024, INC was the winner and AAP's share became 28.72%. AAP share changed by +0.38 percentage points and total polled votes changed by -12.17%. Booth status: INC won the booth in both 2022 and 2024. Main reading: Limited change in AAP share. There is a large change in turnout; therefore, do not treat the old vote share as a direct reflection of the current ground situation. First review the polling pattern, roll/mapping and local factors.

Detailed Action

1588. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
1589. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
1590. 3) This is a long-term organisation/public-issue listening zone for AAP. Build public presence, regular visits, speeches, publicity and a clear understanding of local issues.
1591. 4) During the first visit, create a village/ward-level issue map: roads, water, sanitation, health, education, employment, government services, etc.—whatever people themselves raise.
1592. 5) Where available, collect documentary evidence/complaint references for each issue and follow up with the responsible authority.
1593. 6) During the repeat visit, check whether the issue is resolved, pending or blocked at the authority level. Show verified progress in public communication.
1594. Special turnout action: there is a decrease of more than 10% in turnout. Do not treat this as a direct election-to-election behavioural conclusion; review polling arrangements, voter-roll changes, election type and local circumstances.
1595. Final reporting: visit date, team members, areas covered, public issues, evidence collected, follow-up owner, next date and unresolved items—these 7 things must be included in the report.

2024 Winner	INC — Sukhjinder Singh Randhawa (INC)
2024 AAP %	41.31%
AAP Swing	+9.71 percentage points
Turnout Change	-99 votes (-11.46%)
Status	INC won the booth in both 2022 and 2024

Detailed Situation

In 2022, INC was the winner and AAP's share was 31.60%; in 2024, INC was the winner and AAP's share became 41.31%. AAP share changed by +9.71 percentage points and total polled votes changed by -11.46%. Booth status: INC won the booth in both 2022 and 2024. Main reading: Clear swing toward AAP. There is a large change in turnout; therefore, do not treat the old vote share as a direct reflection of the current ground situation. First review the polling pattern, roll/mapping and local factors.

Detailed Action

1691. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
1692. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
1693. 3) This is a long-term organisation/public-issue listening zone for AAP. Build public presence, regular visits, speeches, publicity and a clear understanding of local issues.
1694. 4) During the first visit, create a village/ward-level issue map: roads, water, sanitation, health, education, employment, government services, etc.—whatever people themselves raise.
1695. 5) Where available, collect documentary evidence/complaint references for each issue and follow up with the responsible authority.
1696. 6) During the repeat visit, check whether the issue is resolved, pending or blocked at the authority level. Show verified progress in public communication.
1697. Special turnout action: there is a decrease of more than 10% in turnout. Do not treat this as a direct election-to-election behavioural conclusion; review polling arrangements, voter-roll changes, election type and local circumstances.
1698. Special swing action: the swing is clear. Verify the possible reasons with at least two separate field sources.

There is a moderate change in turnout; use the 2024 figures as context and carry out current ground verification.

Detailed Action

1793. 1) First field visit: verify the booth boundary, polling location, correct village/ward mapping and the main current public issues.
1794. 2) Booth coordinator: appoint one responsible coordinator, one backup and one person for reporting; prepare a written report after every visit.
1795. 3) This is a long-term organisation/public-issue listening zone for AAP. Build public presence, regular visits, speeches, publicity and a clear understanding of local issues.
1796. 4) During the first visit, create a village/ward-level issue map: roads, water, sanitation, health, education, employment, government services, etc.—whatever people themselves raise.
1797. 5) Where available, collect documentary evidence/complaint references for each issue and follow up with the responsible authority.
1798. 6) During the repeat visit, check whether the issue is resolved, pending or blocked at the authority level. Show verified progress in public communication.
1799. Special swing action: the swing is very large. Make this booth a case study, independently verify the possible reasons through ground interviews and include the learning in constituency-level planning.
1800. Final reporting: visit date, team members, areas covered, public issues, evidence collected, follow-up owner, next date and unresolved items—these 7 things must be included in the report.
